13 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
 14 CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

15 Sabena Lakshmi Kammula, individually
 16 and on behalf of all others similarly 17 situated,

18 Plaintiff,

19 vs.

20 KELLOGG COMPANY, a Delaware
 21 Corporation; KELLOGG USA, INC., a
 22 Michigan Corporation; KELLOGG
 23 SALES COMPANY, a Delaware
 24 Corporation; and DOES 1 through 10

CV09 08102 Case No. MMM (RZx)

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

- 1. FALSE AND MISLEADING ADVERTISING IN VIOLATION OF BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONS CODE § 17200, et seq.
- 2. FALSE AND MISLEADING ADVERTISING IN VIOLATION OF BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONS CODE § 17500, et seq.
- 3. UNJUST ENRICHMENT
- 4. VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA CIVIL CODE § 1750, et seq.
 (Consumers Legal Remedies Act)

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Plaintiff Sabena Lakshmi Kammula (“Plaintiff”), individually and on behalf of 2 all other similarly situated purchasers of Kellogg Company’s Cocoa Krispies (the 3 “Class”), brings this complaint against Kellogg Company, a Delaware corporation,
4 Kellogg USA, Inc., a Michigan corporation, Kellogg Sales Company, a Delaware
5 corporation (collectively “Kellogg”) and Does 1 through 100, inclusive (collectively
6 referred to herein as “Defendants”) and allege as follows:

8 JURISDICTION

9 1. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to the Class Action
10 Fairness Act (“CAFA”), codified in part 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(d) and 1453.
11 Jurisdiction under CAFA is met because: (1) the proposed number of putative class 12 members exceeds 100; (2) at least one plaintiff and one defendant are citizens of 13 different states, and in some instances, the principal defendant is not a citizen of the 14 forum state; and (3) the amount in controversy, including, but not limited to the 15 aggregate amount of relief sought by absent class members, exceeds $5 million. 28
16 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2).

18 VENUE

19 2. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a)(2)
20 because events giving rise to the claims, including, inter alia, Kellogg’s false and 21 misleading advertising and marketing, occurred and arose in this District.

22

23 NATURE OF THE ACTION

24 3. Defendants made and continue to make false and misleading statements
25 in their advertising and packaging of Kellogg’s Cocoa Krispies (hereinafter “Cocoa 26 Krispies Immunity” or the “Product”). Cocoa Krispies is a “chocolatey, sweetened 27 rice cereal” packaged and marketed by Defendants.

1 4. According to Defendants' uniform and consistent claims, eating just 2 three-quarters ($\frac{3}{4}$) cup of Cocoa Krispies will boost a family's immunity.
3 Specifically, Defendants market and advertise that Cocoa Krispies "NOW HELP 4 SUPPORT YOUR CHILD'S IMMUNITY." Defendants, through a variety of 5 advertising, including but not limited to print, internet, and the packaging and 6 labeling of Cocoa Krispies, make false regarding the benefits of Cocoa Krispies,
7 including but not limited to the following:

8 a. FRONT LABEL OF PRODUCT:

- 9 • "NOW HELPS SUPPORT YOUR CHILD'S IMMUNITY"
10 • "25% DAILY VALUE OF ANTIOXIDANTS & NUTRIENTS
11 VITAMINS A, B, C & E"

12 b. BACK LABEL OF PRODUCT:

- 13 • "WITH ANTIOXIDANTS AND NUTRIENTS"
14 • "Helping to support your family's IMMUNITY"
15 • "Kellogg's Cocoa Krispies has been improved to include antioxidants
16 and nutrients that your family needs to help them stay healthy."
17 • "Excellent source of vitamins A, B, C, and E – antioxidants and 18 nutrients that help support the body's immune system"
19 • "Enjoy this wholesome breakfast and help keep your family healthy."

20 c. INTERNET:

- 21 • "And now each and every box is fortified with vitamins and nutrients 22 that work together to help support your child's immunity."

23 5. These consistent and uniform claims are false. Indeed, there is no
24 known clinical study that adequately supports Defendants' claims. Plaintiff 25 therefore brings this class action to secure injunctive relief and restitution for the 26 Class against Defendants for false and misleading advertising in violation of CAL.
27

1 BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17200, et seq. (2009), CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17500, et
2 seq. (2009), and CAL. CIV. CODE § 1750, et seq. (2009), among other laws.

3 6. Additionally, Defendants fail to adequately disclose that other
4 ingredients, including but not limited to sugar, chocolate, high-fructose corn syrup
5 and/or partially-hydrogenated oils, may not “help support” a child’s immunity.
6 Defendants also fail to adequately disclose whether inclusion of such ingredients
7 may outweigh the benefits, and thus render the “immunity” claims false and/or 8 misleading.

9 7. Defendants further failed and continue to fail to adequately disclose
10 whether the form of the “antioxidants and nutrients” purportedly added to the box
11 may not render the health benefits Defendants claim. Defendants also failed and 12 continue to fail to adequately disclose whether “antioxidants and nutrients” are 13 synthetic and/or unnatural in form.

14 8. Accordingly, Defendants’ advertising, including but not limited to print, 15 packaging and internet advertising, conveys a single, consistent false and 16 misleading message to consumers: that Defendants’ Cocoa Krispies cereal will 17 boost a child’s immune system. This is particularly egregious, especially in light of 18 the current H1N1 (‘swine’) flu epidemic in California and the rest of the nation.

19 9. During the course of this deception, Defendants have sold hundreds of 20 thousands of units of the Cocoa Krispies cereal based upon the false promises and 21 misleading advertisements targeted at vulnerable and worried parents, children
22 and/or those individuals desiring to boost their immune systems.

23 10. Plaintiff and the Class have suffered injury in fact and have lost money
24 as a result of Defendants’ false misrepresentations. Plaintiff purchased the Product
25 because of the claims by Defendants that Cocoa Krispies contains twenty-five 26 percent (25%) daily value of antioxidants and nutrients and would support her 27 family’s immune system, among other claims. Plaintiff would not have purchased 28 the Product if she had known that this advertising was false.

11. Defendants' false and misleading statements should be enjoined in the face of scientific and other evidence that undercuts Defendants' claims of Cocoa Krispies' ability to support a family's immune system. In addition, Defendants should be compelled to provide restitution to those innocent consumers that Defendants duped into purchasing Cocoa Krispies cereal.

PARTIES

12. Plaintiff is, and at all times relevant hereto was, an individual residing in Los Angeles County, California. Plaintiff purchased Cocoa Krispies Immunity in Los Angeles County. In doing so, Plaintiff relied upon the advertising and other promotional material which were prepared and approved by Defendants and their agents and disseminated through its packaging, label, and national advertising media, containing the misrepresentations alleged herein and designed to encourage consumers to purchase Cocoa Krispies Immunity.

13. Defendant Kellogg Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware. Kellogg Company is the world's leading producer of cereal. According to its 2007 filing with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission, Kellogg Company had nearly $12,000,000,000 in sales in 2007. Kellogg Company maintains its principal business office at One Kellogg Square, P.O. Box 3599, Battle Creek, Michigan 49016-3599. Kellogg Company, directly and through its agents, has substantial contacts with and receives benefits and income from and through the State of California. Kellogg USA Inc. and Kellogg Sales Company operate as wholly-owned subsidiaries of Kellogg Company. As such, Kellogg Company is the owner, manufacturer and distributor of the Cocoa Krispies Products, and is the company that created and/or authorized the false, misleading and deceptive advertisements and/or packaging for the Cocoa Krispies Products.

1 14. Defendant Kellogg USA, Inc. is a corporation organized under the laws
2 of the State of Michigan. Kellogg USA, Inc. maintains its principal business office
3 at One Kellogg Square, P.O. Box 3599, Battle Creek, Michigan 49016-3599.
4 Kellogg USA., Inc., directly and through its agents, has substantial contacts with 5 and receives benefits and income from and through the State of California. Kellogg
6 USA, Inc., is the owner, manufacturer and distributor of the Cocoa Krispies
7 Products, and/or is the company that created and/or authorized the false, misleading
8 and deceptive advertisements and/or packaging for the Cocoa Krispies Products.

9 15. Defendant Kellogg Sales Company is a corporation organized under the 10 laws of the State of Delaware. Kellogg Sales Company maintains its principal 11 business office at One Kellogg Square, P.O. Box 3599, Battle Creek, Michigan
12 49016-3599. Kellogg Sales Company, directly and through its agents, has 13 substantial contacts with and receives benefits and income from and through the 14 State of California. Kellogg Sales Company, is the owner, manufacturer and 15 distributor of the Cocoa Krispies Products, and/or is the company that created 16 and/or authorized the false, misleading and deceptive advertisements and/or 17 packaging for the Cocoa Krispies Products.

18 16. The true names and capacities, whether individual, corporate,
19 associated or otherwise of certain manufacturers, distributors, or their alter egos
20 sued herein as DOES 1 through 100 inclusive are presently unknown to Plaintiff
21 who therefore sue these Defendants by fictitious names. Plaintiff will seek leave of 22 this Court to amend the Complaint to show their true names and capacities when the 23 same have been ascertained. Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon 24 alleges that DOES 1 through 100 were authorized to do and did business in Los 25 Angeles County. Plaintiff is further informed and believes and based thereon
26 alleges that DOES 1 through 100 were or are, in some manner or way, responsible 27 for and liable to Plaintiff for the events, happenings, and damages hereinafter set 28 forth below.

1 17. Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon alleges that at all
2 times relevant herein each of the Defendants was the agent, servant, employee,
3 subsidiary, affiliate, partner, assignee, successor-in-interest, alter ego, or other
4 representative of each of the remaining Defendants and was acting in such capacity 5 in doing the things herein complained of and alleged.

6 18. In committing the wrongful acts alleged herein, Defendants planned
7 and participated in and furthered a common scheme by means of false, misleading, 8 deceptive, and fraudulent representations to induce members of the public to 9 purchase Cocoa Krispies. Defendants participated in the making of such 10 representations in that each did disseminate or cause to be disseminated said 11 misrepresentations.

12 19. Defendants, upon becoming involved with the manufacture,
13 distribution, advertising, marketing, and sale of Cocoa Krispies knew or should 14 have known that the claims about Cocoa Krispies and, in particular, the claims
15 suggesting that Cocoa Krispies “NOW HELPS SUPPORT YOUR CHILD’S 16 IMMUNITY” and includes antioxidants and nutrients that a family needs to help 17 them stay healthy were and are false, deceptive, and misleading. Indeed, since the 18 first time that Cocoa Krispies was advertised, Defendants have been aware that 19 they, individually and/or collectively, do not possess the requisite competent and 20 reliable scientific evidence to substantiate their bold claims about the purported 21 benefits and effects of Cocoa Krispies. Defendants affirmatively misrepresented the 22 “benefits” of Cocoa Krispies in order to convince the public to purchase and use 23 that product, resulting in profits of hundreds of thousands of dollars or more to 24 Defendants, all to the damage and detriment of the consuming public. Thus, in 25 addition to the wrongful conduct herein alleged as giving rise to primary liability, 26 Defendants further aided and abetted and knowingly assisted each other in breach of 27 their respective duties and obligations as herein alleged.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

20. With the ever-increasing health concerns and scientific revelations regarding the nutritional content of food, the marketing of food as healthy has exploded in recent years. In an effort to “grab” some of those billions, unscrupulous companies routinely toss a small amount of a particular substance into a preexisting product and advertise said product as though it could provide results beyond what would be a reasonable expectation. Often such substances contribute no scientifically proven health benefits or contain dosages that are so small in proportion to that recommended for daily intake as to make any real benefit illusory.

21. These marketing companies engage in campaigns that suggest to health conscious consumers that a particular product will “SUPPORT YOUR CHILD’S IMMUNITY” and keep the consumer’s family healthy, while, in fact, what the product provides is either not what it purports to be, has not been generally accepted within the scientific community, or is otherwise far too minimal to be adequate, let alone profound.

22. In their marketing of Cocoa Krispies, Defendants have “followed the playbook” to the letter. Defendants’ television commercials, website (<http://www.ricekrispies.com/products/cocoa-krispies-cereal.aspx>), and its packaging and labeling reiterate those very same claims, and state:

23. a. FRONT LABEL OF PRODUCT:

- 24. • “NOW HELPS SUPPORT YOUR CHILD’S IMMUNITY”
- 25. • “25% DAILY VALUE OF ANTIOXIDANTS & NUTRIENTS”
- 26. • “VITAMINS A, B, C & E”

27. b. BACK LABEL OF PRODUCT:

- 28. • “WITH ANTIOXIDANTS AND NUTRIENTS”
- 29. • “Helping to support your family’s IMMUNITY”

- 1 • “Kellogg’s Cocoa Krispies has been improved to include antioxidants
2 and nutrients that your family needs to help them stay healthy.”
3 • “Excellent source of vitamins A, B, C, and E – antioxidants and
4 nutrients that help support the body’s immune system”
5 • “Enjoy this wholesome breakfast and help keep your family healthy.”

6 c. INTERNET:

- 7 • And now each and every box is fortified with vitamins and nutrients
8 that work together to help support your child’s immunity.

9 23. Defendants’ claims about Cocoa Krispies lead parents to believe that 10 the antioxidants and nutrients contained therein will have the tangible result of 11 helping to support their child’s immunity. These claims are false, deceptive, and 12 misleading. Defendants do not have competent and reliable scientific evidence to 13 support their claims about Cocoa Krispies. Indeed, Kellogg does not cite to a single 14 clinical trial or study it has conducted or commissioned on the benefits of Cocoa
15 Krispies because, presumably, Kellogg has not conducted or commissioned any. A 16 true and correct copy of the front and back of the Product’s packaging is attached
17 hereto as Exhibit “1” and Exhibit “2”, respectively.

18 24. In spite of its lack of competent and reliable scientific evidence to 19 support its claims about Cocoa Krispies, Kellogg has introduced products including 20 but not limited to Cocoa Krispies into the marketplace to profit from a growing
21 trend in the manufacturing, advertising, and sales of “functional” foods. Kellogg 22 has prioritized profits ahead of its customers by altogether failing to conduct or 23 commission any clinical trials or studies whatsoever concerning the benefits and 24 risks of Cocoa Krispies.

25 25. Contrary to its consistent and uniform claims, Defendants fail to 26 adequately disclose that other ingredients, including but not limited to sugar, 27 chocolate, high-fructose corn syrup and/or partially-hydrogenated oils, may not 28 “help support” a child’s immunity. Defendants also fail to adequately disclose

1 whether inclusion of such ingredients may outweigh the benefits, and thus render 2 the “immunity” claims false and/or misleading.

3 26. Defendants further failed and continue to fail to adequately disclose
4 whether the form of the “antioxidants and nutrients” purportedly added to the box
5 may not render the health benefits Defendants claim.

6 27. Defendants’ claims about Cocoa Krispies lead parents and those 7 seeking to boost their immune systems, to believe that the dosage of antioxidants
8 and nutrients contained therein will have the tangible result of helping to support
9 their child’s immunity. These claims are false, deceptive, and misleading.
10 Defendants do not have competent and reliable scientific evidence to support such 11 claims.

12 28. During the course of their false, misleading, and deceptive advertising
13 campaign, Defendants have sold hundreds of thousands of units or more of Cocoa
14 Krispies Immunity based upon Defendants’ false promises. Plaintiff and the Class
15 have suffered injury in fact and have lost money as a result of Defendants’ false 16 representations. The Product as purchased by the Plaintiff and the Class was and is 17 unsatisfactory and worth less than the amount paid for.

18

19 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

20 29. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of herself and the proposed 21 plaintiff Class members under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure Rule 23(b)(2) and 22 (b)(3). The proposed Class consists of:

23 All persons residing in the State of California who purchased Cocoa
24 Krispies for personal use and not for resale during the time period
25 November 4, 2005, through the present. Excluded from the Class are 26 Kellogg’s officers, directors, and employees, and any individual who 27 received remuneration from Kellogg in connection with that 28 individual’s use or endorsement of Cocoa Krispies Immunity.

1 Said definition may be further defined or amended by additional pleadings,
2 evidentiary hearings, a class certification hearing, and orders of this Court.

3 30. The Class comprises many thousands of persons throughout California,
4 the joinder of whom is impracticable, and the disposition of their claims in a Class
5 Action will benefit the parties and the Court. The Class is sufficiently numerous
6 because millions of units of Cocoa Krispies have been sold in the State of California
7 during the Class Period.

8 31. There is a well-defined community of interest in the questions of law
9 and fact involved affecting the parties to be represented. The questions of law and 10 fact common to the Class predominate over questions which may affect individual 11 Class members. Common questions of law and fact include, but are not limited to, 12 the following:

- 13 a. Whether Defendants' conduct is an unlawful business act or practice
14 within the meaning of CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17200, et seq.;
- 15 b. Whether Defendants' conduct is a fraudulent business act or practice
16 within the meaning of CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17200, et seq.;
- 17 c. Whether Defendants' advertising is untrue or misleading within the 18 meaning of CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17500, et seq.;
- 19 d. Whether Defendants possess competent and reliable scientific evidence 20 to support their label and advertising claims;
- 21 e. Whether Defendants made false and misleading representations in their 22 advertising and labeling of Cocoa Krispies;
- 23 f. Whether Defendants knew or should have known that the 24 representations were false;
- 25 g. Whether Defendants represented that Cocoa Krispies was of a particular 26 standard, quality, or grade when they are of another; and
- 27 h. Whether Defendants represented that Cocoa Krispies has 28 characteristics, benefits, uses, or quantities which it does not have.

1 32. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the Class, and Plaintiff
2 will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the Class. Plaintiff
3 does not have any interests which are antagonistic to those of the proposed Class.
4 Plaintiff has retained competent and experienced counsel in class action and other
5 complex litigation. The questions of law and fact common to the Class members,
6 some of which are set out above, predominate over any questions affecting only 7 individual Class members.

8 33. Plaintiff and the Class have suffered injury in fact and have lost money
9 as a result of Defendants' false, deceptive, and misleading representations.

10 34. The Product as purchased by the Plaintiff and the Class was and is 11 unsatisfactory and worth less than the amount paid for.

12 35. The Class is identifiable and readily ascertainable. The names and 13 addresses of the class members are available through business or public records.
14 Notice can be provided to such purchasers via first class mail using techniques and 15 a form of notice similar to those customarily used in class actions, and by internet 16 publication, radio, newspapers, and magazines.

17 36. A class action is superior to other available methods for fair and 18 efficient adjudication of this controversy. The expense and burden of individual 19 litigation would make it impracticable or impossible for proposed members of the 20 Class to prosecute their claims individually.

21 37. The trial and the litigation of Plaintiff's claims are manageable.
22 Individual litigation of the legal and factual issues raised by Defendants' conduct
23 would increase delay and expense to all parties and the court system. The class
24 action device presents far fewer management difficulties and provides the benefits 25 of a single, uniform adjudication, economies of scale, and comprehensive 26 supervision by a single court.

27 38. Defendants have acted on grounds generally applicable to the entire 28 Class, thereby making final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief appropriate with respect to the Class as a whole. The prosecution of separate actions by individual Class members would create the risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual member of the Class that would establish incompatible standards of conduct for Defendants.

39. Absent a class action, Defendants will likely retain the benefits of their wrongdoing. Because of the small size of the individual Class members' claims, few, if any, Class members could afford to seek legal redress for the wrongs complained of herein. Absent a representative action, the Class members will continue to suffer losses and Defendants will be allowed to continue these violations of law and to retain the proceeds of their ill-gotten gains.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

FALSE AND MISLEADING ADVERTISING IN VIOLATION OF BUSINESS
AND PROFESSIONS CODE § 17200, *et seq.

(By Plaintiff and the Class Against All Defendants)

40. Plaintiff repeats and re-alleges the allegations set forth in the preceding paragraphs and incorporates the same as if set forth herein at length.

41. This cause of action is brought pursuant to CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17200, et seq., on behalf of Plaintiff and a Class consisting of all persons residing in the State of California who purchased Cocoa Krispies for personal use and not for resale.

42. Defendants in their advertising and packaging of Cocoa Krispies Immunity make false and misleading statements regarding the benefits and the efficacy of Cocoa Krispies, particularly as it applies to a supporting a child's immunity and helping to keep family members healthy, all as set forth in the examples above.

1 43. Defendants do not have any competent and reliable scientific evidence
2 to support the claims about Cocoa Krispies made in Defendants' advertising and on
3 Defendants' packaging and label.

4 44. Defendants are aware that the claims that they make about Cocoa
5 Krispies Immunity are false, misleading, and unsubstantiated.

6 45. As alleged in the preceding paragraphs, the misrepresentations by
7 Defendants of the material facts detailed above constitutes an unfair, unlawful, and 8 fraudulent business practice within the meaning of CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE §
9 17200.

10 46. In addition, Defendants' use of various forms of advertising media to 11 advertise, call attention to, or give publicity to the sale of goods or merchandise
12 which are not as represented in any manner constitutes unfair competition, unfair,
13 deceptive, untrue, or misleading advertising, and an unlawful business practice 14 within the meaning of CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE §§ 17531 and 17200, which 15 advertisements have deceived and are likely to deceive the consuming public, in 16 violation of CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17500.

17 47. There were reasonably available alternatives to further Defendants'
18 legitimate business interests, other than the conduct described herein.

19 48. All of the conduct alleged herein occurs and continues to occur in 20 Defendants' business. Defendants' wrongful conduct is part of a pattern or 21 generalized course of conduct repeated on thousands of occasions daily.

22 49. Pursuant to CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE §§ 17203 and 17535, Plaintiff and 23 the members of the Class seek an order of this Court enjoining Defendants from 24 continuing to engage, use, or employ their practice of advertising the sale and use of 25 Cocoa Krispies. Likewise, Plaintiff and the members of the Class seek an order
26 requiring Defendants to disclose such misrepresentations, and additionally request
27 an order awarding Plaintiff and the Class restitution of the money wrongfully 28

1 acquired by Defendants by means of responsibility attached to Defendants' failure
2 to disclose the existence and significance of said misrepresentations.

3 50. Plaintiff and the Class have suffered injury in fact and have lost money
4 or property as a result of Defendants' false representations. The Product as 5 purchased by the Plaintiff and the Class was and is unsatisfactory and worth less 6 than the amount paid for.

8 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

9 FALSE AND MISLEADING ADVERTISING IN VIOLATION OF BUSINESS
10 AND PROFESSIONS CODE § 17500, et seq.

11 (By Plaintiff and the Class Against All Defendants)

12 51. Plaintiff repeats and re-alleges the allegations set forth in the preceding 13 paragraphs and incorporates the same as if set forth herein at length.

14 52. This cause of action is brought pursuant to CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE §
15 17500, et seq., on behalf of Plaintiff and the Class consisting of all persons residing 16 in the State of California who purchased Cocoa Krispies for personal use and not 17 for resale.

18 53. In its advertising of Cocoa Krispies, Defendants knowingly make false
19 and misleading statements regarding the benefits and the effects of Cocoa Krispies
20 Immunity, particularly as it applies to a supporting a child's immunity and helping 21 to keep family members healthy, all as set forth in the examples above.

22 54. Defendants do not have any competent and reliable scientific evidence
23 to support the claims about Cocoa Krispies made in Defendants' advertising and on 24 the packaging and labels of the Product.

25 55. Defendants are aware and knew that the claims that they make about 26 Cocoa Krispies are false, misleading, and unsubstantiated.

27 56. As alleged in the preceding paragraphs, the misrepresentations by 28 Defendants of the material facts detailed above constitutes an unfair, unlawful, and fraudulent business practice within the meaning of CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17200.

57. In addition, Defendants' use of various forms of advertising media to advertise, call attention to or give publicity to the sale of goods or merchandise which are not as represented in any manner constitutes unfair competition, unfair, deceptive, untrue, or misleading advertising, and an unlawful business practice within the meaning of CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE §§ 17531 and 17200, which advertisements have deceived and are likely to deceive the consuming public, in violation of CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17500.

58. Pursuant to CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE §§ 17203 and 17535, Plaintiff and the members of the Class seek an order of this Court enjoining Defendants from continuing to engage, use, or employ their practice of advertising the sale and use of Cocoa Krispies. Likewise, Plaintiff and the members of the Class seek an order requiring Defendants to disclose such misrepresentations, and additionally request an order awarding Plaintiff and the Class restitution of the money wrongfully acquired by Defendants by means of responsibility attached to Defendants' failure to disclose the existence and significance of said misrepresentations.

59. Plaintiff and the Class have suffered injury in fact and have lost money or property as a result of Defendants' false representations. The Product as purchased by the Plaintiff and the Class was and is unsatisfactory and worth less than the amount paid for.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(By Plaintiff and the Class Against All Defendants)

60. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in the preceding paragraphs and incorporates the same as if set forth herein at length.

61. Through the conduct described herein, Defendants have received money belonging to Plaintiffs and the Class through the sale of the Product.

62. Defendants have reaped substantial profit by misrepresenting the facts regarding their Product, as set forth herein. Defendants have benefited from the receipt of such money that they would not have received but for their misrepresentation.

63. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' misconduct as set forth herein, Defendants have been unjustly enriched.

64. Under principles of equity and good conscience, Defendants should not be permitted to keep the money belonging to Plaintiffs and the Class that Defendants have unjustly received as a result of their actions.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

FRAUD

(By Plaintiff against all Defendants)

65. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in the preceding paragraphs and incorporates the same as if set forth herein at length.

66. As detailed above, over the course of the class period, Defendants have uniformly made various misrepresentations about the product, including but not limited to claims that the Product “HELPS SUPPORT YOUR CHILD’S IMMUNITY” and is “Helping to support your family’s IMMUNITY”.

67. These claims, and all claims described above, are false and misleading. These misrepresentations are prominently displayed on every piece of advertising of the Product. Thus, Plaintiff and each Class member were subjected to the same fraudulent advertising each time they purchased the Product.

68. Defendants acted fraudulently and deceitfully with knowledge that Plaintiff and the Class would rely on their actions and omissions. They knew that the Product does not help to support a person's immunity but concealed that fact to induce Plaintiff and the Class to act in reliance on the misrepresentations and statements and to collect more money for the products than they were entitled to.

69. Due to the uniformity of Defendants' misrepresentations to all Class members, the Class at all times is presumed to have reasonably and justifiably relied both directly and indirectly on the actions and representations of Defendants.

70. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' fraud, Plaintiff and the Class have suffered actual damages in an amount not presently known, but which will be shown by proof at time of trial, including incidental and consequential damages, interest, and reasonable attorneys' fees.

71. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and upon such information and belief alleges, that Defendants undertook the aforesaid illegal acts intentionally or with conscious disregard of the rights of Plaintiff and the Class, and did so with fraud, oppression, and malice. Therefore, Plaintiff and the Class are also entitled to punitive damages against Defendants in an amount that will be shown by proof at trial.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

VIOLATION OF CALIFORNIA CIVIL CODE § 1750, et seq.

(By Plaintiff against all Defendants)

72. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in the preceding paragraphs and incorporates the same as if set forth herein at length.

73. This cause of action is brought pursuant to CAL. CIV. CODE § 1750, et seq., the CLRA, on behalf of Plaintiff and a Class consisting of all persons residing in the State of California who purchased Cocoa Krispies for personal use and not for resale.

74. The Class consists of thousands of persons, the joinder of whom is impracticable.

1 75. There are questions of law and fact common to the class, which 2 questions are substantially similar and predominate over questions affecting the 3 individual members, including but not limited to: (a) Whether Defendants
4 represented that Cocoa Krispies has characteristics, benefits, uses, or quantities
5 which they do not have; (b) Whether the existence, extent, and significance of the 6 major misrepresentations regarding the purported benefits, characteristics, and 7 efficacy of Cocoa Krispies violate the Act; and (c) Whether Defendants knew of the 8 existence of these misrepresentations.

9 76. The policies, acts, and practices heretofore described were intended to 10 result in the sale of Cocoa Krispies to the consuming public, particularly those 11 concerned about boosting their immunity and that of their children, and violated and 12 continue to violate CAL. CIV. CODE § 1770(a)(5) by representing that Cocoa
13 Krispies Immunity has characteristics, benefits, uses, or quantities which it does not 14 have.

15 77. The policies, acts, and practices heretofore described were intended to 16 result in the sale of Cocoa Krispies to the consuming public, particularly those 17 concerned about boosting their immunity and that of their children, and violated and
18 continue to violate CAL. CIV. CODE § 1770(a)(7) by representing that Cocoa
19 Krispies Immunity is of a particular standard, quality, or grade, or that Cocoa 20 Krispies Immunity is of a particular style or model, when they are of another.

21 78. Defendants fraudulently deceived Plaintiff and the Class by 22 representing that Cocoa Krispies has certain characteristics, benefits, uses, and 23 qualities which it does not have. In doing so, Defendants intentionally
24 misrepresented and concealed material facts from Plaintiff and the Class, 25 specifically, that Cocoa Krispies helps to support a person's immunity and keep 26 them healthy. Said misrepresentation and concealment were done with the intention 27 of deceiving Plaintiff and the Class and depriving them of their legal rights and 28 money.

1 79. Defendants knew that the dosage of antioxidants and nutrients in Cocoa
2 Krispies are not scientifically proven to substantially help to support the body's 3 immune system.

4 80. Defendants' actions as described herein above were done with 5 conscious disregard of Plaintiff's rights and Defendants were wanton and malicious
6 in their concealment of same.

7 81. Plaintiff and the Class have suffered injury in fact and have lost or 8 property as a result of Defendants' false representations.

9 82. The Product as purchased by the Plaintiff and the Class was and is 10 unsatisfactory and worth less than the amount paid for.

11 83. Pursuant to CAL. CIV. CODE § 1780(a), Plaintiff seeks injunctive relief 12 only, in the form of an order enjoining the above-described wrongful acts and 13 practices of Defendants, including, but not limited to, an order:

- 14 A. Enjoining Defendants from continuing to make the statements set 15 forth above;
- 16 B. Enjoining Defendants from continuing to offer for sale any unit
17 of Cocoa Krispies that contains any false, misleading and/or 18 unsubstantiated statements and claims on its packaging and/or its 19 label, including, without limitation, those statements and claims
20 set forth above;
- 21 C. Ordering that Defendants immediately recall any and all units of 22 Cocoa Krispies that contain any false, misleading and/or 23 unsubstantiated statements and claims on them and/or their 24 labels, including, without limitation, those statements and claims
25 set forth above;
- 26 D. Enjoining Defendants from continuing to use the packaging and 27 label that it presently uses for Cocoa Krispies; and

1 E. Enjoining Defendants from distributing such false advertising
2 and misrepresentations.

3 84. In accordance with Cal. Civ. Code § 1780(a) and (d), Plaintiff will 4 subsequently amend this class action Complaint without leave of Court to include
5 a request for damages. Pursuant to Section 1782 of the CLRA, Plaintiff is 6 simultaneously notifying Defendants in writing of the particular violations of 7 Section 1770 of the CLRA (the Notice) and demanded, among other things, that 8 Defendants cease making the misrepresentations alleged herein, and that 9 Defendants provide restitution to consumers who purchased the Product. Plaintiff
10 will send Notice by means of by certified mail, return-receipt requested, to 11 Defendants at their principal places of business. If Defendants fail to respond to 12 Plaintiff's demand within thirty days of receipt of the Notice, pursuant to section
13 1782(a) and (d) of the CLRA, Plaintiff will amend this Complaint to request
14 statutory damages, actual damages, plus punitive damages, interest and attorney's 15 fees. Plaintiff requests that this Court enter such orders or judgments as may be 16 necessary to restore any person in interest any money which may have been 17 acquired by means of such unfair business practices, and for such relief as 18 provided in CAL. CIV. CODE § 1780 and the Prayer for Relief.

19 85. Plaintiff requests that this Court enter such orders or judgments as may 20 be necessary to restore any person in interest any money which may have been 21 acquired by means of such unfair business practices, and for such relief as provided
22 in CAL. CIV. CODE § 1780(a) and the Prayer for Relief.

23 86. Plaintiffs shall be irreparably harmed if such an order is not granted.
